GETTING INTO

Almost All the Local Ball Players Arrive in Town.

WOODCOCK MAY REPORT TO-DAY.

Local Amsteur Athletes Have an Interesting Entertainment.

EX-UMPIRE ZACHARIAH KILLED BY CARS

It is expected that all the local ball players signed to play here will be in the city to-day, including Pitcher Woodcock. Quite a batch of players are in the city now, including Arthur Whitney, Corkhill, Ehret, Earle and Shugart.

It looked like the height of the baseball season vesterday afternoon at headquarters, on Wood street, and many an old story was told and many a prediction made, of course. Many of the players are anxious to know who are going to be kept and who are going to be released. It is certain that 19 men are not going to be retained, and probably five of that number will have to go speedily. Manager Buckenberger wisely refrains from stating who will have to go, although it may be that he and President Temple have already made up their minds on the

Lots of Guesses.

Many conjectures have been and are still being made as to who will be released, but the management decline to say what guess is right and what is wrong. They want to try all the players before finally releasing anybody. The common expectation is that Arthur Whitney will not be retained. He certainly will not if Denny is secured, but it is stated that if Denny comes here or not Whitney will be released. One authority says that that is the present intention. It is also rumored that Corkhill will not be wanted, nor will Briggs.

But if all the pitchers show up in good form one or two may be released, but not right away. Both Manager Buckenberger and Presdent Temple mean to be extremely careful before releasing any player at all, and particular attention will be paid to the pitchers in this respect.

All the players who have arrived are well pleased with the prospects of the team, at least they profess to be.

Speak Well of Woodcock,

The Eastern contingent brings good accounts of Woodcock from there, and Manager Buckenberger was well pleased yesterday when he received a letter from Woodcock stating that the latter will be here to-day. It is still thought that the Boston club has been tampering with Woodcock, and on the expectation of mattire him they command the talk should getting him they commenced the talk about releasing one of their pitchers. Since the Pittsburg club has definitely stated that Woodcock must play here there has been no talk about releasing a Boston pitcher. Woodcock may be tried in Saturday's game if he intends to play here, and he would hardly come this far if he did not mean to report for duty. If he pitches Saturday he will be quite a good card.

All the players who have so far reported are looking in excellent condition. Corkhill is in fine trim, and it is needless to say that he is able to do some very fine fielding.

THINKS IT'S A BLUFF.

That's Jim Hall's Opinion About the Challenge of Bob Fitzsimmons. MOUNT CLEMENS, MICH., March 30-[Special.]-Hall, the pugiltst, now here, received a telegram from New York last evening advising him that Fitzsimmons had written the sporting edito: of the New York World that he would meet Hall before either the Olympic or California Athletic Club for the purse offered and a side bet of $10,000, Queensberry rules to govern, and that he will allow Hall four pounds over middleweight limit, and has posted $5,000 forfeit. Seen at his hotel this evening, Hail said: "I'll fight fitz-immons in any part of God's creation for any bloody money he can put up, but I can't reduce below 163 pounds. He knows this, and that's why he says 158 pounds, just to keep us apart."

"Then you regard the challenge as particularly well worded?"

"Certainly, that's the meat. It is a bluff pure and simple."

pure and simple."
"If he should decide to meet you upon the same terms, allowing you 163 pounds, would you accept?"
"Certainly, and he knows that too well, but he understands I can't train down any nearer the middle-weight limit than this. That's the very reason he granted me 158 younds.

"I shall not remain silent, but haven't just decided on my answer. You may say, how-ever, that I look upon his proposition as very cleverly worded to keep us apart."

EX-UMPIRE ZACHARIAH KILLED.

fle Meets a Frightful Death on the Track at Homestead Last Evening.

Patrons of the National game in all Na-Honal League cities between Chicago and New York will regret to learn that Thomas Zachariah, ex-League umpire, met a fright-Deceased was coming from Johnstown where he has been residing for two or three years past, to Homestead. At Braddock he years past, to Homestead. At Braddock he boarded a freight train and crossed the river to Homestead. At the latter place he was jumping off the train when his foot slipped and he cell, his head landing on the rail. The wheels of the car ran over his head, pounding it into a jelly. Death was instantaneous. An inquest will be held to-day.

Thomas Zachariah was known to every patron of baseball in this city. He was a League umpire in 1880. Before he held that position he was an umpire in the County.

position he was an umpire in the County League and was ranked as the best in the League. He was noted for his honesty, his intelligence and his geniality. He was in all respects a credut to the baseball profession for no man ever took part in it with a for no man ever took part in it greater conscientiousness.

THE NEW ATHLETIC SCHEME

Mr. J. A. Wells Says a Few Words Abou the Affair.

Speaking of the new Athletic League yesterday John A. Wells, one of the Exec Committee of the Atlantic division of the A. A. U., said:

"It seems to me that the new league has for its object the downfall of the A. A. U. Of for its object the downtant of the A. A. U. Of course the promoters of the new organization will not admit that, but the general opinion is what I say. The new organization wants to have nothing but big clubs in, the divisions of the and let me tell you that the divisions of the A. A. U., wherein all the big clubs are located, are in debt and assessments have had to be made for them. The Atlantic division is the only one having a balance to its credit. Certainly the A. A. U. is good enough for me and for our association."

CINCINNATI, March 50 .- Mr. Charles Fleisc mann, a capitalist of this city, who has gone into the fast horse business, is suffering his first disappointment. His high priced fiver Remaid, now in training at Latonia, has thrown a "bog spavin" and will be unable to fill any or his spring engagements, which included the American Derby, the Louisvine Derby and a number of important events at Latonia. Mr. Fleischmann paid $8,000 for Ronald last winter.

The Cricket League.

George Macpherson, C. V. Childs and oth ers met at the Hotel Schlosser last evening and discussed the prospects of the proposed

TOURING THE CONTINENT.

A Pittsburg Bicyclist's Troubles in Crossing the Southern Desert.

Los Angeles, March 30.-C. A. Boyle rived this morning, having completed a transcontinental trip of the country on a bleycle. Boyle is the proprietor of a printing office and a resident of Pittsburg, Pa. He was incited to take this trip on account of his failing health. For years he has been troubled with pulmonary disorders, and his physicians advised him to come to California. He made the distance from Los Angeles to Albuquerque in 24 days. He suffered a to Albuquerque in 24 days. He suffered a great deal from exposure and the want of food in crossing the desert. His safety is badly wrecked, many spokes being broken and twisted. The wheels were more worn in the 1,000 miles on the desert than the 2,000 miles traveled in the Eastern States.

Boyle was compelled to sleep several nights on the sand. He was entertained and welcomed by the bicycle clubs of the towns he passed through, but was very much annoyed by Navalo Indians, who chased after him and persisted in their attempts to ride the sarety. They kept popping out of the sand hills and grass and would make all sorts of demonstrations. Boyle's canteen broke, and in his dire emergency he stopped a train and asked an engineer for a drink. The engineer was angry, but he gave the water asked for. Boyle left for San Francisco to-day, whence he goes home by way of St. Lake, Leadville, St. Joseph and Chicago.

Hamilton has held the university championship a long time, and after a good "set-to" last evening he was declared the winner once more. John McGrew and Albert A. Marshall were the wrestlers, and after an exciting contest McGrew was declared the winner. Although the boxing and wrestling were the only contests, Prof. Sherer deserves great credit for the entertainment furnished by his pupils. There are some promising young athletes among them.

JOHN IRWIN'S TEAM.

fie Proposes to Take Profes

Players on a Trip. Boston, March 30 .- [Special.]-John Irwin has made arrangements to take a team of professional ball players on a trip as far south as Washington, D. C.

They will be known as the Boston Blues, and have the following men: Catchers Ryan, late of Louisville, and Burke; pitch Ryan, late of Louisville, and Burke; pitchers, Ed Crane and Gruber; Hartnet, Sam Wise and Irwin on the bases; Bobby Wheelock, short stop; Slattery, Donovan and one of the battery in the outfield.

The team will leave Boston at 3 o'clock next Friday afternoon and play their first game in Baltimore on Saturday, where they remain for the second game on Monday.

Tuesday and Wednesday the team plays with the strong Philadelphia aggregation.

Washington will see the Boston men on Thursday and Friday.

Manager Irwin will try to arrange a game for Saturday, 'April 9, on the way home.

Sam Wise will arrive in Boston this week, Wednesday. Ed Crane is in fine shape, and will give the big teams plenty hard work to find his fast ones.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

COLUMBUS, O., March 30.-The House plan for redistricting the State for Con-gressional purposes became a law to-day. The Senate gracefully receded from its position, and the work of the caucus of House Republicans was adopted as that satisfactory to the State at large. The Congressional districts, as provided for by the law passed, are as follows:

First and Second—Hamilton county. Third—Preble, Montgomery and Butler. Fourth—Allen, Auglaize, Darke, Mercer. Shelby. Fifth—Van Wert, Putnam, Paulding, Defiance. Williams, Henry. Sixth—Brown, Clermont, Clinton. Warren, Greene, Highland. Seventh—Miami, Clark, Madison, Fayette, Pickaway. Eighth—Hancock, Hardin, Logan, Union, Delawire, Champaign, Ninth—Fulton, Lucas, Wood, Ottawa. Tenth—Adams, Pike, Scioto, Gallis, Jackson, Lawrence. Eleventh—Boss, Hocking, Perry, Athens, Vinton, Meigs. Twelfth—Fairfield, Franklin. Thirteenth—Erie, Sandusky, Seneca, Wyandot, Crawford, Marlon. Poisoner Reed Sees a Gleam of Hope-Another Possible Marder. WASHINGTON, PA., March 30 .- Martin Reed, the condemned murderer of Alexander Chappel, now believes there is one chance for life. John Good, of East Liverpool, arrived here to-day. Good says that he saw two men place a bottle of liquor on the fence two men place a bottle of liquor on the fence in the Burgettstown fair grounds near where Chappel secured the poisoned whisky and that this occurred "about" the day Chappel died. Good was admitted to the jail, and, after closely scrutinizing Reed for some minutes, informed the officials that he was positive Reed was not one of the guilty parties. Good's story tallies exactly with that often told by Reed, except that the latter says one of the men took a drink from the bottle before placing it on the fence. Reed still has a few friends, and they will prepare the Good testimony and place it before the Pardon Board at an early date.

An ugly affair occurred here this morning that will likely result in the death of William Blake, a well-known butcher. He and William Gardner began quarreling in the shop. As the men had been drinking a fight followed. Gardner picked up a cleaver and struck Blake a fearful blow on the head. Gardner disappeared and at a late hour has not been found.

RAUM DENIES IT ALL

The Pension Commissioner Has Lots of Negatives to Questions.

NOT A SINGLE HINT ADMITTED.

Mr. Faum's Vague Ideas of What Is Meant by a Muzzled Press.

DISCHARGES CAUSED BY CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, March 30.-The examina tion of Pension Commissioner Raum was resumed to-day by the Special Pension Office Investigating Committee of the House. Mr. Euloe asked the reasons for the dismissal of Edward Renaud, a pension office clerk. The Commissioner read three letters, in two or which he asked the dismissal of Renaud from the Pension office. In these letters Mr. Raum called attention to articles which had appeared in the New York Tribene criticising the conduct of pension officials and commenting particularty upon one case. The Commissioner wrote that Mr. Renaud admitted having the papers in the case on his desk, but gave no explanation as to why he had the papers on his desk. Mr. Renaud's duties did not require him to ex-amine the papers, and he had no right to take the papers from the files. The articles could not have been written without these papers, and while Mr. Renaud denied hav-ing written or inspired the article, he ading written or inspired the article, he admitted being a writer for the Tribme. The article was a misstatement of the case. Mr. Raum, in his letter, further stated that Renaud, after Commissioner Black went out of office, boasted of having written the well-known "physical wreck" articles, and Mr. Raum demanded his dismissal on the ground that no clerk in the department should be that no clerk in the department should be permitted to attack the head of the bureau in which he served.

Renaud Still in the Census Office. Renaud was dismissed from the Pension Office. Subsequently he was employed in the Census Office, and witness wrote a third tention to Renaud's employment. Renaud was still in the Census Office.

To Mr. Enloe the Commissioner said he had never heard that Secretary Noble had said the statements in the article were true.

A Tribune correspondent denied that Re-naud had written the article or furnished the facts. Renaud had refused to assist witnes in ascertaining the name of the author. Re-naud had never said the papers were put on his desk by mistake.

Mr. Euloc asked the Commissioner how long it was since the New York Tribune had ceased to make war upon his administration. The Commissioner said he really could not tell. He was not usually a reader of the Tribune.

"Did you?" Mr. Enloe asked, "send anybody to see Mr. Russell Harrison, or did you go to see him, to ask him to use his in-fluence with the manager or the controlling powers of the Tribune to stop this attack upon your administration?"

"I did not."

"Do you know of anybody being to see him for that purpose?"
"I do not know anything about it." "Do you know of Mr. Lemon having performed such a service?"

Questions Put Fast and Furiously.

"I have no knowledge or information on the subject. "Do you know of anybody having spoken to Mr. Whitelaw Reid to get him to stop this correspondence attacking your administration?" "I have no knowledge of it." "Have you ever heard of such a thing?"
"I understood that one of the principal men of the Tribune office was in the city here, and that he had some conversation, probably at the Secretary's office. It was probably with General Bussey. I did not see the gentleman and had no conversation with him."

"Do you know what the conversation with General Bussey was?" "I do not. I learned that the gentleman seemed to be laboring under the impression that the Department was very much dissatisfied with my management of the Pension office, and that they informed him quite to the contrary; that they thought I was givtion was good, and that the criticisms upon it were not just." "Did General Bussev tell you that Mr. Russell Harrison and Mr. Lemon and other gentlemen had interceded with this man?"

"No, sir; that is entirely new to me."
"You have not heard what it was that rought this man here from New York?" "What was his name?" "I cannot recall his name. I was not acquainted with him." "Have you not understood that the influ-

"I cannot state that I have any information on the subject. Persons have spoken to me with some indignation about the manner in which the Tribone was conducting itself in the matter, and said that Mr. Reid ought to be spoken to."
"Did the President ever express himself to you in that way?"

"No, sir. I never talked with the President about it." "Did Mr. Russell Harrison?" "I never said a word to Mr. Harrison on

"Who were the persons who expressed themselves as you say?"
"I cannot tell you. Many persons coming into the office and talking about these articles thought it a little curious that one of the principal bureaus of the Government should be attacked by the Tribune while Mr.

the administration?"

"Yes. "Did they express to you the idea that anybody holding a public position under the Government and having control of a public journal should muzzle his paper?"

"I have no information on the subject."
This closed the most interesting portion of the day's testimony, the remainder of the hearing being devoted to listening to the reasons which influenced the commissioner in removing certain clerks.
